

Essence of Earth

A refined still life that celebrates natural beauty and rustic elegance. A dark olive oil bottle stands central, surrounded by textured artichokes and a delicate white flower. Soft fabrics and draped ribbon add balance and warmth, inviting quiet reflection on the richness of everyday simplicity.

Inspired by a friend who is a traditional olive oil producer from Tuscany, Italy, this painting was created as a tribute to winning the gold medal in Japan for the best olive oil with the highest concentration of polyphenols, which play a role in cancer prevention.
